Abdel-Fattah, R. The Lines We Cross
Michael's parents are leaders of a new anti-immigrant political party which is trying to halt the flood of refugees from the Middle East; Mina fled Afghanistan with her family ten year ago, and just wants to concentrate on fitting in and getting into college—but the mutual attraction they feel demands that they come to terms with their family's concerns and decide where they stand in the ugly anti-Muslim politics of the time.

Adeyemi, T. Children of Blood and Bone
Zélie, her brother Tzain, and princess Amar fight to restore magic to the land and activate a new generation of magi, but they are ruthlessly pursued by the crown prince, who believes the return of magic will mean the end of the monarchy.

Albertalli, B. Yes No Maybe So
Jamie Goldberg, who chokes when speaking to strangers, and Maya Rehrman, who is having the worst Ramadan ever, are paired to knock on doors and ask for votes for the local state senate candidate and unexpectedly fall in love.

Ali, S.K. Love from A to Z
Eighteen-year-old Muslim teens Adam and Zayneb meet in Doha, Qatar, during spring break and fall in love as both struggle to find a way to live their own truths.

Blake K. Three Dark Crowns
On the island of Fennbirn, triplet sisters who each wield a coveted magic skill and claim an equal right to the throne must fight to the death when they turn sixteen for the title of Queen Crowned.

Brown, R. A Song of Wraiths and Ruin
Malik, a refugee desperate to save his sister, and Karina, a grieving crowned princess with a mission, vow to destroy each other even as a mutual attraction builds between the two.

Charbonneau, J. Time Bomb
Trapped in their school after a bomb goes off, six students fight to survive and when they discover that someone inside is the bomber, they are also looking for who among them is the culprit.

Cohn, R. Dash & Lily's Book of Dares
Told in alternating voices of Dash and Lily, two sixteen-year-olds carry on a wintry scavenger hunt at Christmas-time in New York, neither knowing who—or what — they will find.

Crowley, C. Words in Deep Blue
Teenagers Rachel and Henry find their way back to each other while working in an old bookstore full of secrets and crushes, love letters and memories, grief and hope.

Dugan, J. Verona Comics
Told in two voices, cellist Jubilee and anxiety-ridden Ridley meet at a comic con where both of their families have booths, and begin a relationship they must hide from their parents.

Green, J. Will Grayson, Will Grayson
When two teens, one gay and one straight, meet accidentally and discover that they share the same name, their lives become intertwined as one begins dating the other's best friend, who produces a play revealing his relationship with them both.
