YA FIC Austen Pride and Prejudice

At the turn of nineteenth-century England, spirited Elizabeth Bennet copes with the suit of the snobbish Mr. Darcy while trying to sort out the romantic entanglements of two of her sisters, sweet and beautiful Jane and scatterbrained Lydia.

YA FIC Barwin No Known Address

Teen homelessness is not always connected to poverty and crime. Sometimes there's more to the story. Tyler comes from a privileged family. When he's blamed for bringing prescription narcotics to a party, his abusive dad kicks him out of his home. This novel brings to light the serious nature of verbal and emotional abuse and how difficult it is to be understood and access support in such circumstances.

YA FIC Bass Blood Donor

When Jo McNair is one minute late for her curfew, her controlling father locks her out. Wandering the streets, she has no money and nowhere to sleep. She meets someone who says they're with a group working with at-risk kids, helping them get back on their feet-- and walks into a kidnapper's trap. Now Jo and several other teens are being held prisoner; their captors drug them regularly and force them to donate their blood. When one of the teens doesn't return, Jo suspects their days are numbered. They have to find a way to escape before their time runs out.

YA FIC Brouwer Trapped

Kevin makes a startling discovery that he hides from his abusive foster parents.

YA FIC Chan Kung Fu Master

Everyone assumes that because he's Chinese, Jon Wong must be a first-class nerd who's good at math. No matter how hard he tries, he can't seem to shake the stereotypes. Then, a rumor starts going around that Jon is a kung fu master. Rather than correct the mistake, Jon plays up the role and enjoys all the attention. When the school bully challenges him to prove his skills, Jon must find a way to keep his status as the cool kid without getting pulverized.

YA FIC Choyce The Rules Have Changed

16-year-old Blake Pendleton is surprised to learn, after three years abroad, that things are very different at his school now.

YA FIC Dickens A Tale of Two Cities

An adaptation of the classic novel about the French Revolution and its effect upon the lives of several individuals, both French and English.

YA FIC Fradkin Blood Ties

YA FIC Gottesfeld The Code

When seventh-grader Chris Marks' conscience makes him decide to break "The Code" that says you never, ever snitch, he is surprised to find out that the bully he tells on, Phil Hartz, is actually kind of cool. But, when Phil asks him to do something wrong, Chris decides it is time to break the code.

YA FIC Gottesfeld The Love Mints

Maddie and Lori unearth a time capsule with a surprising and magical candy mint inside that makes a boy fall in love with the first girl he sees. Lori gives a mint to Nick. It works! He falls in love with her. The girls plot on how to get Trevor to eat a mint too but he won't take one. They are down to their final piece when it gets moldy. What are they going to do?

YA FIC Gottesfeld Standing By Emma

BFFs Danya and Emma are known around school as "Demma." The girls are total opposites, but they know each other so well that they finish each other's sentences. Danya is plagued with guilt when the girls and Rosie, Emma's mom, are involved in a terrible car accident that leaves Emma in a wheelchair. Danya believes the wreck was her fault because she distracted Rosie from the road and had to be scolded. For a while, Emma believes it too. And she can't forgive her friend.

YA FIC Gottesfeld The World's Ugliest Dog

Tana has wanted a dog for years. Her parents have finally agreed. She loves her shelter dog, Storm. He's smart and loving but wow, he is an ugly dog. That doesn't matter to Tana. Storm gives her more responsibility. When she enters him in an ugly dog contest, she learns about friendship, loyalty, and heroism.
