PARENTS AS READING PARTNERS

The PARP program is a reading program which encourages parents or someone in a parental role to read with their child at least 15 minutes a day. The program can be utilized by a school, library or community center and can run anywhere from two weeks to the entire school year. The goal is to promote the love of reading between parents and children.

Team up with your little one with our PARP Program featuring Dr. Seuss! Read 20 books to your child and bring the reading log back to receive a very special prize and an invitation to a show. Pick up your bag with everything you need beginning on Wednesday, January 2nd through Friday, February 22nd. In order to receive a special invitation to the performance by Lee Knight on Saturday, March 2nd at 9:45am or 11:00am, please turn in your log by Wednesday, February 27th.

LEARN BEGINNER'S BRIDGE (PART 1) cma513

THANK YOU!

We had a lot of community volunteers who helped to get the Library up and running again on our opening day following the week that the Library had been closed for construction.

We extend a big "Thank You!" to the following volunteers who helped stamp date due cards, organize and shelve library materials, close magnetic DVD cases, take program attendance, organize our Lego display materials, and perform many other tasks that helped to free up Library staff to work on getting the Library in order again. With the help of our volunteers, we got it all done!

Michelle Adams Sabrina Adams Robert Brand Thom Bruce Jason Caesar

Michael Campagno Marjorie Caputo Kristin Carson Matthew Dwyer Ingrid Erbel

Faith Froitzhem Lauren Froitzhem Nicole Froitzhem Barbara Herrmann Ann Minogue

Jack Murray Linda Murray Maureen O'Brien Marge Richmond Patricia Valluzzi

A big "Thank you!" to our ever-supportive Friends of the Library, who had taken on the task of organizing and conducting our sale of surplus Library furniture. The Friends of the Library voluntarily perform many tasks on behalf of the Library, including organizing bus trips, maintaining our Thrift Books shelf, maintaining our garden, and much more!

KALER'S POND AUDUBON SOCIETY PRESENTS IDENTIFY WINTER BIRDS

Sunday January 27th, 1:30pm-3:00pm.

Not all birds migrate to Florida and beyond for the winter. Many species stay on Long Island, while for others, Long Island is South! Join us for a presentation that will identify the birds at your feeder as well as those you are likely to see in the fields, forests, wetlands and shores of Central Long Island. Finally, learn the "hotspots" for bird watching on Long Island so you can find the birds yourself.

All are welcome.

Registration begins on Saturday, January 12th.

KALER'S POND AUDUBON SOCIETY PRESENTS WHO IS THAT?

Sunday, February 24th, from 1:30-3:30pm.

Several types of owls make Long Island their home. February is a particularly good time for these magnificent creatures as they are setting up their nesting territories and can be very vocal at this time. Learn about Screech, Great-Horned, Long-Eared, Short-Eared, and Snowy Owls who you might see on a winter's night. We will cover identification by sight and sound, discuss ecology and behavior, learn where to find owls locally, and even learn what they eat first hand through dissecting owl pellets. Come on down and have a "hoot" with us!

All are welcome.

Register beginning on Saturday, February 9th.
