

*The following titles can be found in the Young Adult Fiction Section

Center Moriches Free Public Library
235 Main Street
Center Moriches, NY 11934
631-878-0940
Compiled by Mary McNulty

Albertalli, B. Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens Agenda

Sixteen-year-old, not-so-openly-gay Simon is blackmailed into playing wingman for his classmate or else his sexual identity--and that of his pen pal--will be revealed

Daniels, A. Dreadnought

Danny Tozer's main problem was trying to keep people from realizing she's transgender. Until she suddenly gains the powers of Dreadnought, which also gives her what she always needed: a girl's body. Now all she has to do is find and stop Dreadnought's murderer...

Eagland, J. Wildthorn

Louisa would rather study to be a doctor than learn to be a proper Victorian young lady. Because of this, when her father dies, she is put in an asylum. Now, Louisa must figure out how to escape. Meanwhile, she's falling in love with another young woman – something even more forbidden than a girl studying medicine.

Garvin, J. Symptoms of Being Human

Riley begins running a blog to document what it's really like being genderfluid. After moving to a new school and having a politician father running for reelection, this is the perfect way to let those feelings out. Until someone at school discovers the blog and connects it with Riley, threatening exposure. Riley now has to choose – come out and keep the lifeline the blog has created or walk away?

Gilbert, K. Picture Us in the Light

Artist Danny Cheng has a lot on his plate. He's trying to get into his top art school and figuring out whether his feelings for his best friend Harry might be more than just friendship when he finds himself on the trail of a family secret that could change his life forever.

Gregorio, I.W. None of the Above

A groundbreaking story about a teenage girl who discovers she's intersex...and what happens when her secret is revealed to the entire school.

Hutchinson, S. We Are the Ants

Henry has spent years being periodically abducted by aliens. Then the aliens give him an ultimatum: the world will end in 144 days, and all Henry has to do to stop it is push a big red button. Except life hasn't always been great for him, so he's not sure that he wants to. Henry is left with the ultimate choice: push the button and save the world...or let everything, including his pain, be destroyed forever.

Konigsberg, B. Openly Straight

Rafe is perfectly happy being out and proud. Except sometimes, he thinks he might like getting to live without the label. So when he transfers to an all-boys boarding school, he doesn't tell anyone he's gay. He's enjoying his new friends and living without the label...until he falls in love with one of his new friends.

LaCour, N. We Are Okay

Marin has left everything behind to go to college on the other side of the country, and no one knows why. Not even her best friend, Mabel. But when Mabel comes to visit over winter break, will the truth finally come out?

Levithan, D. Boy Meets Boy

When Paul falls hard for Noah, he thinks he has found his one true love, but when Noah walks out of his life, Paul has to find a way to get him back and make everything right once more.

Lo, M. Ash

In this retelling of Cinderella, Ash grows up believing in the fairy realm that the king and his philosophers have sought to suppress, until one day she must choose between a handsome fairy cursed to love her and the King's Huntress whom she loves.

McLemore, A. Wild Beauty

If Estrella and her sisters fall too deeply in love, their lovers vanish. Then a boy magically appears in the garden they tend – the garden they are tied to – changing everything.

Ormsbee, K. Tash Hearts Tolstoy

Tash's web series has just gone viral, with all the pros and cons and fame. Tash now has to navigate having her own fandom, creating the best web series she can and finding a way to tell her new Internet crush that she's actually asexual.

Rowell, R. Carry On

Simon Snow is sure he isn't meant to be the Chosen One. He's doubly sure he wasn't meant to be rooming with a vampire who hates him. But as the school year goes on, he realizes he isn't sure about anything – especially about how he feels about his roommate, Baz.

Russo, M. If I Was Your Girl

Amanda has just moved in with her dad for senior year. All she wants is to make friends and fit in. But she moved for a reason: she's transgender, and this school offers a fresh start. She makes friends, even finds a potential boyfriend, and wonders all along how to tell anyone the truth – or even if she should.

Saenz, B. Aristotle and Dante Discover the Secrets of the Universe

Fifteen-year-old Ari Mendoza is an angry loner with a brother in prison, but when he meets Dante and they become friends, Ari starts to ask questions about himself, his parents, and his family that he has never asked before.

Silvera, A. More Happy Than Not

After enduring his father's suicide, his own suicide attempt, broken friendships, and more in the Bronx projects, Aaron Soto, sixteen, is already considering the Leteo Institute's memory-alteration procedure when his new friendship with Thomas turns to unrequited love.

Talley, R. Lies We Tell Ourselves

It's 1959. Sarah is one of the first black students to attend the local all-white high school. Linda is the daughter of one of the town's most vocal opponents of racial integration. Neither of them want to work together on a school project. But it leads them to confront everything they believe - and how they feel about each other.

Treyvane, E. Coda

In an abandoned basement, Anthem sings of truth and freedom with his illegal underground band. Yet on the surface, Anthem is unable to resist the call of the Corporation's addictive, mind-altering music, even as he knows it's used to control him and his fellow citizens. When tragedy strikes close to home, Anthem realizes that defying the Corp comes at a deadly price.

The following two titles may be found in the nonfiction section

Jennings, J. Being Jazz

Jazz Jennings, fourteen year old YouTube and TV star, takes readers on a journey of transitions – hers, as she shares what it's like being a transgender teen today. (YA B Jennings)

Slater, D. The 57 Bus

One teen left severely burned. One teen facing life imprisonment. The true story of how Sasha, an agender teen, crossed paths with Richard, and the crime that caused international attention. (YA 364.15 Sla)

This title may be found in the graphic novel section.

Wang, J. The Prince and the Dressmaker

By day, Prince Sebastian is the heir to the throne, preparing to marry the girl his parents pick for him. By night, he is Lady Crystallia, fashion icon. The only person who knows is his best friend – and master dressmaker – Frances. But Frances wants her dresses to be more than a secret. Can she protect her friend's secret while still achieving her dreams?