

His hideous heart : thirteen of Edgar Allan Poe's most unsettling tales reimaged
Edited by Dahlia Adler
 Edgar Allan Poe may be a hundred and fifty years beyond this world, but the themes of his beloved works have much in common with modern fiction.

Devolution : a firsthand account of the Rainier Sasquatch massacre
Max Brooks
 As the ash and chaos from Mount Rainier's eruption swirled and finally settled, the story of the Greenloop massacre has passed unnoticed, unexamined, until now. But the journals of resident Kate Holland, recovered from the town's bloody wreckage, capture a tale too harrowing and too earth-shattering in its implications, to be forgotten.

Afterland
Lauren Beukes
 Fleeing west to find a safe haven in a world vastly transformed by a pandemic that has killed nearly all men, a mother disguises her son as a girl to escape dangerous adversaries, including her own sister.

The nesting
C.J. Cooke
 A nanny taking care of two young girls soon suspects that nothing in their remote house is how it appears in this chilling Gothic thriller.

The final girl support group : a novel
Grady Hendrix
 A real-life "final girl"— the one girl always left standing at the end of a horror movie — who survived a massacre 22 years ago, works to overcome her past until someone becomes determined to take their lives apart again, piece by piece.

Full throttle : stories
Joe Hill
 The best-selling author of Strange Weather presents 13 short stories of supernatural suspense, including Throttle, co-written by Stephen King, in which a trucker is caught in a sinister dance with motorcycle outlaws in the Nevada desert

The legend of Sleepy Hollow
Washington Irving
 Two men vie for the hand of a wealthy farmer's daughter. Ichabod Crane, the superstitious schoolmaster is one of those men. One night, when walking home from the farmer's house, Ichabod is chased by the Headless Horseman, who "rides forth to the scene of battle in nightly quest of his head".

The haunting of Hill House
Shirley Jackson
 When four seekers arrive at a notorious old mansion, their stay seems destined to be merely a spooky encounter with inexplicable phenomena, but Hill House is gathering its powers and will soon choose one of them to make its own.

The only good Indians : a novel
Stephen Graham Jones
 Four American Indian men from the Blackfeet Nation, who were childhood friends, find themselves in a desperate struggle for their lives, against an entity that wants to exact revenge upon them for what they did during an elk hunt ten years earlier by killing them, their families, and friend

The Hunger
Alma Katsu
 A retelling of the fate of the Donner Party, with a Walking Dead style twist. As members of the party begin to disappear, they must ask themselves "What if there is something waiting in the mountains? Something disturbing and diseased...and very hungry?"

Her body and other parties : stories
Carmen Maria Machado
 Machado blithely demolishes the borders between psychological realism and science fiction, comedy and horror, fantasy and fabulism. She bends genres to shape startling stories that map the realities of women's lives and the violence visited upon their bodies.

Bird Box
Josh Malerman
 In an apocalyptic near-future world, a mother and her two small children must make their way down a river, blindfolded. One wrong choice and they will die. And something is following them--but is it man, animal, or monster?

The Drowning Kind
Jennifer McMahon

A chilling new novel about a woman who returns to an old family home after her sister mysteriously drowns in its swimming pool...but she's not the pool's only victim. Be careful what you wish for.

Mexican Gothic
Silvia Moreno-Garcia

The acclaimed author of Gods of Jade and Shadow returns with a darkly enchanting reimagining of Gothic fantasy, in which a spirited young woman discovers the haunting secrets of a beautiful old mansion in 1950s Mexico

Survive the night : a novel
Riley Sager

When her best friend is the third victim of a serial killer targeting college students, Charlie, deciding to leave campus, accepts a ride home from Josh Baxter and, realizing his true identity too late, must win a twisted game of cat and mouse by surviving the night.

Frankenstein, or, The modern Prometheus
Mary Shelley

In trying to create life, the young student Victor Frankenstein unleashes forces beyond his control, setting into motion a long and tragic chain of events that brings Victor himself to the very brink. How he tries to destroy his creation, as it destroys everything Victor loves, is a powerful story of love, friendship... and horror.

The sun down motel
Simone St. James

A young woman takes a night-clerk job at the same roadside motel from where her aunt went missing decades earlier before uncovering the work of a serial killer.

The Lost Village
Camilla Sten

Documentary filmmaker Alice Lindstedt has been obsessed with the vanishing residents of the old mining town, dubbed "The Lost Village," since she was a little girl. As doubt breeds fear and their very minds begin to crack, one thing becomes startlingly clear to Alice: They are not alone. They're looking for the truth... But what if it finds them first?

Dracula
Bram Stoker

Presents the tale of a bizarre Carpathian count who drinks human blood to stay alive, and the Englishman who knows his secret.

The Burning Girls
C.J. Tudor

An unconventional vicar moves to a remote corner of the English countryside, only to discover a community haunted by death and disappearances both past and present--and intent on keeping its dark secrets. But uncovering the truth can be deadly in a village where everyone has something to protect, everyone has links with the village's bloody past, and no one trusts an outsider
